

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

We received a call the other day asking us to explain the Electoral College that has been in the news so much this year. Since then, we have decided that there may be others that do not quite understand it, so we have done a little research on it and will try to explain at least a part of it here.

First, we should probably explain that by our Constitution we do not vote for any of the candidates for president or vice president when we vote in the general election in November, but instead vote for a group of electors, who, in turn, vote for the candidates. This goes back to our early days when communications were much less than they are today, and our founding fathers felt that the average man would have no way to know about the qualifications of those seeking our highest two offices. So they set it up so that in each state the people would select a group of men that would get together and decide whom they felt should hold these offices.

At first these men were just individuals and were selected much like our representatives, but later when we went to the two-party system, they were selected by the parties at their conventions and have since voted down the party line. But this is controlled only by party discipline as there is no requirement that these men vote for the men of their party. But, in practice there have been only two instances where this practice has been broken and both of these were in 1948 when two electors voted for a third candidate. One of these was in Tennessee and the other in Alabama.

At one time the ballot in Texas carried the names of these electors under the party columns, but this has been discontinued.

The number of electors each state has is based on its population, the same way its representation in Congress is determined.

While we generally know soon after the polls close following the general election who our next president will be, this is based on the assumption that the electors will vote down party lines. Officially, the winners are not determined until the electors meet in the state capitals in December and cast their votes. These are sent under seal to the president of the United States Senate and to the Administrator of General Services in Washington. In January, at a joint session of the House of Representatives, the president of the Senate opens the certificates. Then four tellers, one Democrat and one Republican from each house, count the votes in the presence of both houses of Congress.

The candidate receiving the highest number of electoral votes for President is declared elected, provided that the number is a majority of the electors. If no candidate has a majority, the state delegations in the House of Representatives choose the President. Each state has only one vote in such an election. The Senate elects the Vice President, if no candidate wins that office in the Electoral College, from the two candidates having the highest number of electoral votes.

And this is where all of the discussion about the Electoral College has sprung from, because, if a third party candidate can draw enough votes to prevent either major party candidate from getting a majority, then the office of the Presidency will not be filled until the first part of January.

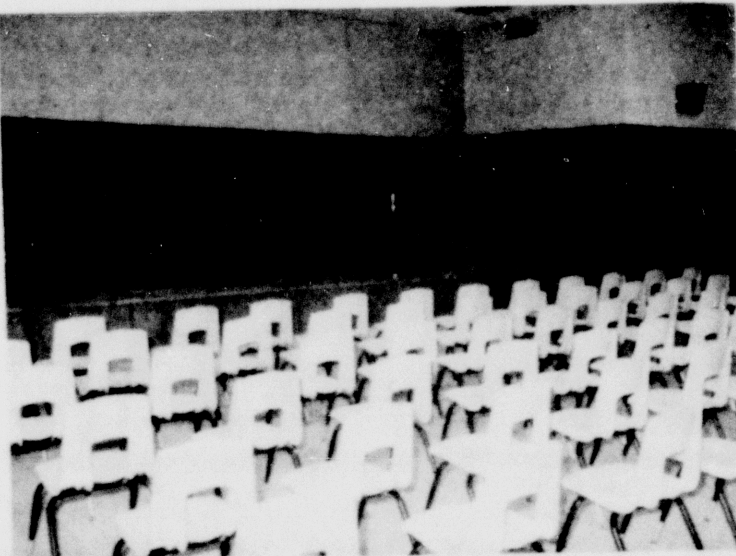

To compound the problem and the reason that a candidate can win the electoral vote by a landslide but fail to carry the popular vote is that in each state the winner takes all. This means that in Texas one candidate could receive 40% of the vote, another candidate 30%, and still another candidate 30%, and the one receiving the 40% would receive all 24 electoral votes.

Screwworm Fly Cases Take Big Jump, Dangers Sighted by Agent

Screwworm fly cases have taken a sharp rise this year, and producers are being asked to remain on the alert for infestation in their herds, County Agent Kirby Clayton says.

Many factors have added to the increase in activity of the pest in Texas, but only by good management can the fly be brought under control again.

Some ranchers have had a tendency to become lax in their efforts to keep the pest from the herds. Treating all deborned, sheared or castrated animals with approved screwworm "dope," coupled with close observation of livestock can once again rid the state of the profit-robbing, he says.

Although wet weather has kept many ranchers from getting close to some animals in their herds, now is the time for them to inspect all livestock for open wounds and possible infestation by screwworms.

Ten specimens should be taken from an infested wound and sent to the Mission laboratory for identification so that control measures can be initiated in the area if the sample is positive.

For more information on collecting and shipping samples of suspected screwworms and for mailing containers, Clayton suggests that livestock producers stop by his office at the Court House.

Grassed Waterways, Parallel Terraces Top SCS Practices

Grassed waterways and parallel terraces topped the list of conservation practices carried out by local farmers during fiscal year 1967, reports Gary Batte of the Soil Conservation Service.

During the 12-month period ending June 30, 1968, 55 acres of waterways were established to permanent grass in the Stamford SCS Work Unit area. "An additional 26 acres were shaped and will be planted to grass next spring," Batte said.

New parallel terrace construction amounted to only 38 miles during the year, which compares to 156 miles the year before. "The reason for the drop in parallel terrace construction," Batte explained, "was the extremely unusual weather conditions which kept fields wet during most of the terracing season."

SCS technicians provided 1285 separate services to 557 farmers, ranchers, business men, conservation contractors, and others. Assistance was also given in the preparation of 103 farm and ranch conservation plans during the year.

"Twenty-one new Great Plains Conservation Program contracts were developed, and all but 11 of them have been approved for funds," said Batte. "Approval is expected on these sometime after agricultural program appropriations have been made by Congress later on this year."

Other accomplishments during 1967 fiscal year include: Brush control, 5,816 acres; level terraces, 6 miles; fish pond stocking, 16; farm ponds constructed, 2; and range seeding, 1392 acres.

Sorghum Midge Damage Reported In Area Grain Fields

The sorghum midge is the most damaging pest of grain sorghum in Texas, and has been found in grain sorghum in Jones County. The orange colored, fragile looking gnat or fly is about one-twelfth of an inch long. The female midge lays its eggs in the spikelet at the time of pollination and the pink to orange maggot feeds on the contents of the seed causing the characteristic damage.

The adult female lives only 24 to 48 hours during which time she deposits 50 to 250 eggs. From 11 to 21 days (with an average of 16) are required for the midge to develop from egg to adult.

Early in the growing season, midge populations are light and cause little damage to grain sorghum. After several generations, the female midge can be found rather easily depositing its eggs in blooming grain sorghum.

Control measures should begin immediately if midge are found among the newly emerged heads. Best results come from applying insecticides when approximately 90 percent of the heads have completely emerged from the boot.

A second application should be made in three to five days.

Grain sorghum is susceptible to midge damage only during the time when it is blooming. At this time the spikelets are open and the female midge is able to deposit her eggs within the individual spikelets. After blooming has ceased, the spikelets are closed and no more eggs can be deposited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and their children, Jo Lynn and Tommy and a niece and nephew, Toby and Gretchen Swaney from Houston, and friends Bennett Driver, Connie Kim, Patricia Elkins and Debra Scarborough all from Hamlin spent four days at Lake Brownwood this past week. They were met there Friday night by friends from Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. George McKinney and their two sons, Mark and Larry.

Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bowdry, Mr. and Mrs. Doil Plemons, all of Abilene, Jo, Leon, Frank and John Porter of Odessa; Mrs. Winnie Choate, Miss Tina Choate, both of Graham; Dick and Guin Clouser of Bedford; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Miss Fanny Caldwell, both of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Caldwell of Arlington.

Dear editor:

I was riding my tractor down to the mail box the other day, some people may think that's a sign of laziness but they don't understand motors, it's not good for an engine to sit idle too long, it ought to be cranked up and run every once in a while to keep the cylinder walls from rusting, and on the way back I ran over a glass bottle somebody had thrown from his car and cut a gash in my left rear tire.

It wasn't bad, but I figured I'd gotten all the rust out by then and parked the tractor on the hill where I keep it in case the battery is still low the next time I want to start it — some people with weak batteries are so short-sighted they park on level ground and invariably have to be pulled off — and pulled out a newspaper I'd been saving and by one of those coincidental quirks the first article I read was about glass bottles.

According to it, a university professor has received a $50,000 grant from the government to invent a bottle that dissolves. He claims he can make one for that, when you're through with it, you break and it begins to melt and in 24 hours is gone. Nothing left but a wet puddle.

I recommend that he hurry up.

Already, the article pointed out, Americans throw away 26 billion bottles a year. In numerals, if you've got enough zeroes in your shop and you're bound to have if you want to function in a society with a national debt as big as ours, that's 26,000,000,000. In ten years it's 260,000,000,000, in a hundred years 2,600,000,000,000, and in a thousand years . . . well, that's asking too many zeroes of even the New York Times, not to mention The Herald.

A newspaper has other things to do besides stockpile zeroes, and besides if there are any spare ones around Washington will snap them up.

At any rate, I hope that professor succeeds, not only with bottles but with car windshields, plate glass windows, etc. If he does, that $50,000 will be the best money the government ever invested. Why it cost more than that to clean up the broken glass after one small riot in just a medium-size city not big enough to make television.

It'll be real progress when you can have a riot on Saturday night and by Monday morning all the glass has melted and disappeared into the storm sewers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

This August 19 bale was one day later than the 1957 bale, which was brought in by a Sylvester farmer. First 1956 bale was harvested by W. J. Madden from his farm eight miles west of Hamlin. The 1955 first bale was harvested by W. J. Waddle on August 14, and the 1954 first bale was brought in by J. A. Harden on August 15.

Cohorn's cotton was planted on April 20, and was among some of the earliest cotton in the section.

Origin of one of Hamlin's most disastrous fires in its 50 year history that Saturday completely destroyed the R. B. Spencer & Co. lumber yard and offices Saturday evening remained a mystery at mid-week after several investigations by Fire Marshal Bryant Conner and insurance adjusters failed to reveal any clues.

The blaze, which broke out suddenly about 6:30 Saturday evening some 45 minutes after Manager A. Spencer had closed and left the yard for the day, quickly spread in the fresh lumber stacks in the shed and made a complete loss of the sheds, offices, a yard truck and a pre-fabricated four-room house that was on the north end of the yard.

Officials of the R. B. Spencer concern, with headquarters at Waco, were here Monday to check the destruction. They estimated the loss at between $80,000 and $90,000.

Members of Xi Gamma Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi attended a called meeting in the home of the president, Mrs. John C. Bryant, Friday afternoon.

Seven students from Hamlin last week attended a twirling and drum majoring workshop at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

They were Brenda Fin-cannon, Judith Ford, Martha Gage, Wyvonne Conner, Peggy Killion, Betty Maberry and Judy Parker, all students at Hamlin High School.

Artificial Breeding School Planned

Bill Middlebrook of Route 2, Haskell, representative of the American Breeding Service for Jones and Shackelford Counties, has announced a four day livestock artificial breeding school to be held in San Angelo beginning Sept. 16.

Middlebrook said that he represents the oldest breeding service in the nation and that they now have 17 different breeds.

Fall Seeding of Small Grains Still Recommended Practice

Fall seeding of wheat, oats and barley is still the recommended practice for top yields on the Texas High Plains.

These small grains seeded during the fall have consistently outperformed spring seedings in tests at Denton, Chillicothe and Bushland, says County Agricultural Agent Kirby Clayton. In fact, in most tests the yields of fall sown grains have been twice that of the spring-seeded crops.

Lower yields and quality from spring-seeded small grains result mainly from environmental factors, points out the agent. Spring-seeded crops must be seeded and become established during a period of generally low rainfall, cool temperatures, high winds and spring freezes.

When spring sown, small grains should be seeded as soon as the danger of late freeze damage is past. Clayton says. Late seeding usually results in the crop reaching maturity during hot, dry weather. Also, rusts more frequently damage these late-maturing crops.

The grain quality of spring sown crops is usually poorer because of heat, drought and diseases during the fruiting period. Furthermore, points out the agent, the total returns of spring-seeded crops are less than those fall-seeded since they furnish no revenue from winter grazing.

Tests of durum and hard red spring wheat varieties have been conducted at each of the above locations. The average yield of spring varieties has been about half that of winter wheat varieties. Furthermore, their lack of cold tolerance is a major hazard since they may be killed by late spring freezes.

The 1968 Jones County Wheat Variety Test results are listed below:

| Variety | Yield-Bu. |
|------------------|-----------|
| Scout 66 | 55.0 |
| Tascosa | 46.8 |
| Crockett | 44.1 |
| Caddo | 42.5 |
| Sturdy | 40.4 |
| Improved Triumph | 38.7 |
| Triumph 64 | 38.1 |
| Guide | 35.5 |
| Parker | 28.8 |

On Dean's List

Mary Margaret Turner, an education major at Baylor University, was named to the Dean's List for academic performance during the 1968 spring semester. To make the Dean's List, students must have a grade average of more than 3.60 of a possible 4.00 and carry at least 12 hours during a semester.

Miss Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner, had an average of 3.80.

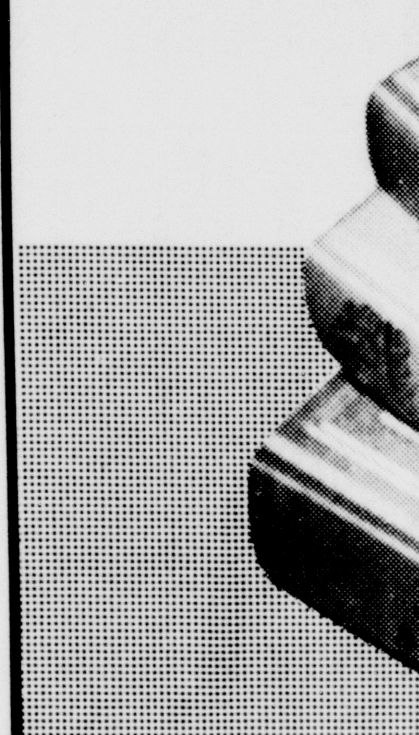

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Williams of Abilene are parents of a boy, Mark Allen, born Aug. 16 at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. and 1 1/2 oz. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Helms of Hamlin and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Williams of Abilene. The couple's other children are Edwin, 8, Billie, 5, and Dusty, 2.

On Top

The Bible, "God's holy word," is still the best seller, and most quoted book. From the original Greek and Hebrew this book has been translated into many languages.

Through the centuries men have devotedly studied and sought out the truth in the Bible. When one reads the Bible with an open mind, God's word is "as sharp as a two edged sword."

Through the centuries men have devotedly studied and sought out the truth in the Bible. When one reads the Bible with an open mind, God's word is "as sharp as a two edged sword."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Neinda Cemetery
Cleaned for Third
Time This Year

The officers of the Neinda Cemetery Association have announced that the cemetery had been cleaned for the third time this past week.

They also invite everyone interested in the cemetery to drive out and see the work that has been done.

The trustees include M. H. Castleberry, Irby Weaver and R. P. Williams, Jno. Brown Sr. is treasurer. They report a total expense of $776.44 for labor.

This year has been a hard year to get labor and heavy rains made the weeds grow faster. The cemetery was worked in April and then in June the mounds were improved. The alleys were plowed and the weeds were hoed this past week.

The trustees expressed their appreciation to all who made the work possible.

Anyone who has not contributed to the Association this year may deposit the money at F & M National Bank or make a check payable to Neinda Cemetery Association and mail it to Mr. Brown, the treasurer, or one of the trustees.

Class of 1967 Sets
Dinner Meeting

Members of the Class of 1967, their parents, and sponsors will have a dinner meeting in the new high school cafeteria Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

It is the custom for the graduating class to have this sort of meeting after the senior trip, but this past year, there were conflicts which prevented having the function.

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Norton and Pauline Green and their house guests, Angela and Lou Ann Thraugher of Dallas, visited with the Norton children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Nunley and Amy in Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Norton and Heather in Huntsville. They also toured HemisFair. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norton will visit here this week enroute to Denver where he will be teaching sixth grade science in the Denver Public School system.

Mrs. Norton received her master's degree from Sam Houston State this week. Friday, John Norton and Cara Moore of Oklahoma City, Okla., will join the Nortons here.

Capt. and Mrs. Richard Neal and son, Ricky, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Fraser last weekend. Capt. Neal has been stationed at Khorat, Thailand, at the Royal Thai Air Force Base. After Capt. Neal's leave, the family will be going to Kadana Air Base in Okinawa for three years.

GRADUATE TO TOTAL ELECTRIC LIVING

"With Electric Home Heating—we have fewer colds, no fumes, and walls stay clean!"

THE CECIL RICHARDSONS
HAMLIN, TEXAS

"We like total-electric living so well we recommend it to our neighbors," Irene Richardson says. Working conditions are better and her electric appliances save her so much time. She thinks flameless electric heating and cooling is wonderful for her skin problem.

Terry Cecilia, the Richardson's 5-year-old granddaughter, plays comfortably the year 'round and always has plenty of fresh clean clothes. "I use the washer and dryer every day—sometimes several times a day," Irene Richardson says.

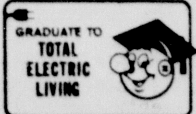

The Richardsons cook a lot, burn the lights a lot, and entertain friends, yet find total-electric living economical. "We're very satisfied with it," Mr. Richardson says.

Richardson is manager of the Hamlin Farmers' Co-op. Irene Richardson is a full-time homemaker, and Terry Cecilia pre-kindergarten age.

Dove Outlook
Reported Good
For Opening

SAN ANGELO — Game management officers continue to be pleased with the outlook for this year's dove season. The population of doves is good, and there seems to be adequate food to hold the birds in the West Texas area through the September 1 opening day.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officers and most license deputies have free maps available for the convenience of the hunters in both North and South Zones, and there is a reminder included that the State is currently on Daylight Saving Time. The starting hour each day will be 1 p.m. until reversion to Central Standard Time on October 27 when it will start at 12:00 noon.

From various sections of West Texas, management officers report that sunflower, ragweed and croton seeds are beginning to fall. A few areas have cut maize, some have already plowed stubble, but most grain fields will be ready to cut about the time bird season opens and grain should be on the ground to draw in the birds.

The dove has proven to be one of the most difficult birds to hit as indicated by the national average of one bird in the bag for each five shotgun shells expended in its direction. So, if you bring in five birds per box of shells be happy, and consider any over that amount as a bonus.
